

The second annual Australian Resources Chinese Investment Congress will enable potential investors to gain an insight into investment opportunities in Australian resources – Mining (in particular, Uranium), Oil and Gas and renewable energy (wind and geothermal).

This conference will also provide a forum for discussion of best practice models of achieving sustainable relationships between Australian and Chinese companies and investors and how to achieve successful business outcomes in partnership.

- Two day congress aimed at increasing dialogue between China and Australia
- Latest issues affecting the resources sector
- Legal and commercial issues of doing business between Australia and China
- Best practice models and case studies
- Economic outlook for future growth
- One on one meeting program
